

Walking

For the past few years I have gone on a walking holiday with some friends, and to varying degree have recorded the information here. It is quite an 'open' group which has existed for many years (long before I became involved), so if you are interested in getting involved, let me know.

So far, since I joined the group, we have visited:

Poland, in 2007

Slovenia, in 2008

Mallorca, in 2009

Next year? Lots of suggestions so far, including Sardinia, Corsica, Germany and Austria, and we also have interest in New England and Nepal though perhaps these are one to 'save up for'.
